Belvidere, Ill., Dec. 3, 1891.
NORMAN LIGHTY, Des Moines, Iowa.
DEAR SIR:—Having suffered a great deal from headache for years and being unable to get relief until it would wear away of itself. I saw Krause's Headache Capsules advertised. I tried them and now am never without them, finding it the only remedy that will give me relief. When I now find a headache coming on me I take a capsule and find the relief instantaneous.
Respectfully yours,
G. H. WRIGHT,
Boston, Mass.
For sale by Summers & Dauchy, druggists.

Cagwin & Noteware are daily receiving all the latest successes in sheet music. They have some very beautiful and tuneful songs on hand.

Billy Thompson yesterday sold eight boxes of apples for one dollar for the lot, discounted the bill at ten per cent., and then put up $4 50 for soda water on account of the sale. He wants some mathematician to tell him how many boxes he would have to sell upon the same terms to raise enough money to go to the World's Fair.—Gazette.

The prospects of six days racing being held in this county are rather small. It might be done, however, if the matter was taken in hand by the Turf Club, which was recently organized here, with the assistance of the merchants of this city, all of whom would reap a benefit from a race meeting here, which would attract crowds of people.

In an interview recently Thomas A. Edison said: "I have always used a great many sapphires in the manufacture of phonographs. They are very expensive and sometimes very hard to procure at all. I analyzed the chemical composition of the sapphire, and finding out what it was I started to make sapphires. I now make all I use. I can make rubies for $5 a pound that in beauty far exceed the genuine."

All Things Come to him who Waits

Miss Jennie Davis of Carson, and Mr. James Kerr, of Reno, were married in Reno Sunday evening by the Rev. Mr. Fletcher.

Miss Davis left Carson Sunday ostensibly for Portland, Oregon, but seems to have been detained in Reno by the lucky James, whose lot she will share henceforth. The marriage was the outcome of a promise made five years ago to Mr. Kerr by Miss Davis that if at the end of that time she was single, he could have her, heart and hand. In the meantime he was not to press his suit. The time arrived, and like a true Nevada girl she kept her promise. Both are well known and have a host of friends. The APPEAL extends congratulations, and wishes them any amount of happiness. The Portland trip has been indefinitely postponed.

A BIG PROJECT.

Chas. Slingerland May Pipe the Springs Water to Carson.

Should times pick up a little, Chas Slingerland has on foot a project to pipe the Springs water into Carson, put up a big hotel, and bathing resort, with the natural hot water as a drawing card.

The distance is about two miles, and the natural fall sufficient to run the water without pumping.

The proposition is to float $30,000 shares of stock, build the hotel and bathing tanks near the depot, and as the water has a wide reputation for its medicinal properties, establish a sanatorium in Carson.

It would be much handier than as it now stands, and a hotel, with such natural facilities for the comfort, pleasure and cure of guests should be a money making venture.

He anticipates no trouble in landing the water here good and hot, and if this can be done there seems to be no trouble about the success of the scheme.

FROM THE FAIR.

Our Correspondent Either Sobered up or Awakened.

Chicago, August, 21.—I haven't any special excuse to offer for giving the APPEAL the go by during the past few months, but I might say that a supreme laziness, superinduced by a desire to more fully examine the attractions along the Midway Plaisance overtook me some time ago, which coupled with a bad attack of rheumatism, has incapacitated me for indulging in any mental labor, though perhaps a letter to the APPEAL might not be considered a severe mental strain.

I strolled up to the Esquimaux village, [I don't know whether that's the way to spell it or not] and was very well received by the "Mayor" who speaks English very well. I asked him how he liked the place, and he said:

"I don't like it very much; it is too d—hot," as he stopped the ice wagon and ordered 20 pounds left at his hut every morning, and then continuing, "This idea of living in a canvas hut, painted with waterproof paint and sprinkled over with powdered glass, to look like ice, makes me pretty tired. I have to sit on a cake of ice all day to keep alive. If the Fair lasts much longer, I will be carried home a physical wreck. Just see how thin I'm getting." And he opened his shirt and showed me how many ribs he had.

"Why, what do you think, last week the mangers kicked because I refused to wear firs unless they raised my ice allowance. If they don't give us at least an extra allowance of ice for Sundays hereafter, I will see them in h—Greenland, I should say, before I'll wear a fir."

Here he hailed an ice cream man, and after treating himself and the writer, told the man to put the bill into the management, and if they kicked he would O. K. it.

Then he gave the children each a tallow candle to suck, and went on as follows:

"I tell you what; it is mighty hard work here keeping cool. Our ice supply gave out yesterday, and I had to send the children out to rustle some. They finally came back with a few pounds they had snaked off a corpse at the morgue." Here he stopped to sprinkle some salt on the cake of ice, which he was using for a stool, and then his wife called him to break up some ice for supper, and I left him.

Walter Cook, one of the Carson ranchers, arrived here the other day and is putting in his time getting awestruck. He seems to be awe struck most of the time. The agricultural department appears to interest him most.

E. Aube, Ormsby's County Clerk, accompanied by his wife, is also here enjoying the Fair. Aube got into the Midway Plaisance the other day by accident, and stayed in there nearly two hours. He explains that he was telling Cook what he saw when he happened to glance in the direction of the dancing girls, but Cook refused to believe it until Aube took him around and showed him the place, and then they both stood there pinching themselves to see if it wasn't all a dream. After they discovered it, at the end of an hour or so, to be a reality, they hastily took their departure, but will go again tomorrow to make doubly sure, and purchase a couple of pictures.

Rev. J. W. Hystop passed through Chicago the other day, on his way East, where he will join his wife. They will visit the Fair on the return trip.

Nevada has every reason to be proud of the splendid work done by her representatives here in the recent Bi-Metallic Congress. The gold bugs haven't one among them who is any match for any of the Silver State's champions.

Recently the Fair visitors were treated to the exhibition of a torture dance, the genuineness of which was emphasized by two or three of the performers falling senseless in pools of their own gore. It consisted of a half dozen Indians allowing themselves to be drawn about the arena, the reins being securely fastened to the flesh of the back. The exhibition was cruel and horrifying in the extreme, and it would seem that while the World's Fair is a large affair still it does not compare in size to the exhibition the Fair managers are making of themselves in allowing such things to take place. In these endeavors to please the public, it is fair to presume, in view of the above that they will spare no pains to see that everybody is suited.

It would surprise no one to see advertisements like the following appear shortly:

"Bloody Mike, who murdered a whole family last Fall and was recently convicted, will be hung in the Fair grounds next Friday promptly at 2 o'clock. Everybody should see this grand exhibition to show their appreciation for the enterprise of the Fair Directors. Notwithstanding the enormous expense entailed in securing this great attraction there will be no advance in prices. As an extra attraction Mike has consented to make a full confession from the scaffold and die hard. Photographers will be permitted to take instantaneous views during the convulsions.

"In case of any unforeseen accident, such as the breaking of the rope, or rain, the exhibition will be postponed until the following day. Tickets will hold good."

"Attraction extraordinary! Arrangements have been made with Sig. Areal to ascend in a balloon from the Fair grounds next Saturday, at entrance to the Midway. When at an elevation of 3900 feet, the balloonist will set fire to his balloon, and be dashed to death. Desiring to prevent accident, all persons are cautioned to look out for his falling body, as to be struck by a body falling from so great a height would result fatally. A collection will be taken up, and after defraying funeral expenses the balance will be turned over to the arcanaut's widow."

"A genuine crucifixion will take place in the City of Jerusalem on the grounds August 31st. The celebrated actor who impersonated Our Savior in the Passion Play last season has been secured at great expense, and will be crucified on a cross 18 feet high. Remember this will be the only genuine crucifixion given in America. It is endorsed by the clergy, and church members are especially invited. New mechanical effects and realistic scenery.
